

Ward 18 Parks Conservancy

Parks are under threat: too many cuts (closure of MacGregor Park wading pool), too many permit fees (for community use of park clubhouses, for local community events) too many programs cancelled (no staff-supported bake oven use, youth drop-in sports), too many add-on fees on top of permit fees (kids' soccer). To make the most of our Ward 18 parks, it's time to create a parks conservancy. Webster's Dictionary says a conservancy is "a careful preservation and protection of something; especially....of a natural resource to prevent exploitation, destruction, or neglect."

What do we want a parks conservancy to foster?

Using what we have: best use of existing buildings, talents of staff, talents of community. Thrifty: fewer levels of bureaucracy, better repair and maintenance, open budget information. Simpler structure: easier access, local connection between community and city staff, working together. Ingenuity: taking the best advice from other conservancies elsewhere in Canada and abroad, and adding it to the best local practices: the "Toronto model." Keeping our tax-funded parks PUBLIC.

for more information: publiccommons.ca - mail@celos.ca

this poster was produced by the centre for local research into public space - CELOS